Manufacturers & Production Engineers

General

Keefe Bros. was established in 1928 at Beaumaris, Victoria. Brothers, Trevor and Colin Keefe initially started the company as Press Tool makers and General Engineers. Among the early product range was the well known brand name of "ZAC" automotive switches. This was soon expanded into the manufacturing of various valves, nipples, and unions.

From our new purpose built premises in Braeside we can manufacture an extensive range of high quality products and components. Today our range also includes gas taps, brass injectors, regulators, hoses and gas bayonet sockets all of which are approved by the Australian Gas Association. We also export a large range of components to South East Asia and New Zealand.

The company adopted a "Quality Management" approach in accordance with Australian Standard AS3902/ISO9002 in the late 1980's, which we have maintained and revised. We are currently certified as conforming to the International Standard AS/NZS ISO 9001:2000.

Capability

Keefe Bros. has a wide range of engineering machinery ranging from hand operated drill presses to the latest CNC lathes, like our new Miyano BNJ 42S. With driven tools and traversable rear spindle giving X and Z axis, this enables simultaneous front, rear and side complex machining operations for materials up to 42mØ x 200mm.

Our Multispindle turning centres, with material capacity of up to 25mmØ x 100mm, have a large volume output which ensures rapid production times combined with high accuracy to within 0.05mm. We have the facilities for tube cutting, bending and swaging, induction brazing, and soldering. In addition, sub-assemblies can be manufactured and fabricated to precise customer requirements from a wide range of materials.

Having been established for over 75 years, we at Keefe Bros believe that working together and providing efficient service will maintain the integrity of our company to ensure that our customers are satisfied and confident to approach us for all their manufacturing requirements.
